» Come and see what God has done: he is awesome in his deeds among mortals.«

Ps 66, 5

My eye saw and wishes to see again, wishes to plunge, immerse itself and find itself again
in worlds and in places, where the soul senses harmony between the inside and the outside.

YOU have formed these worlds:
the outer one,
which gladdens, delights, attracts and enthuses me,
the inner one,
invisible, yet always there.

Every now and then I see it so clearly in the mirror of the external,
that I weep for joy,

having found home.

This world is within me,

from the beginning,
in all wildness and diversity,
colourful and wide,
austere and profound,
dark and radiant with light.

Therefore, I let myself be enticed:

Come into the depths
of your soul
and discover
the deeds of God!
Marvel!
Give thanks!
